HOOPS AND THEIR WEARERS. An Englishman bas lately written a pamphlet entitled "Dangers of Crinoline," in which he avows that this fashion is making lamentable inroads into the health, morals and happiness of his fair countrywomen. We cannot agree with this Englishman's idea of crinoline as conductive to ill health, for assuredly the fashion has essentially lightened the load of skirts women were wont to wear, and with Delaware, Class 8, for 1858, to be drawn at Wilmington, Delaware, on SATURDAY Wilmington Delaware, on SATURDAY, well protected as heretofore. The pamphlet

THE TALL WOMAN .-- Now look in the opposite direction; and see that tall lady sailing along in all the amplitude of skirts. What does she look like. A Jack-in-the-green on stills; a weeping willow grafted on to a poplar; the monument stack into the dome of St. Paul's with the dome downwards, or any other bizarre congiomeration you can imagine .--75 00 Onward she comes against a violent gust of 37 50 wind. See how she rocks to and fro, like a vessel in a storm, keeping her perpendicular position with the greatest difficulty, and grasping hold of the railings as she passes along, to steady herself on her feet.

THE FAT WOMAN. - Anon there comes a very short lady, to whom nature has been extreme ly kind in awarding an amplitude of figure seldem seen. One would think that this lady would be satisfied with the amount of bulk that had been apportioned her. But no such thing; with the waywardness and blindness which the victims of fashion are guilty of, she believes that adding to the extent of corporeal outline adds a charm to the already liberal possession boasted of.

THE THIN WOMAN .-- And now there comes the exact opposite of her who has just passed; 35 00 a thin, very thin lady, somewhat maliciously called "scraggy," without the slightest pretension to figure, and no development worth OTTERY for the benefit of the State of speaking of. Be good enough to observe that Delaware, Class 32, for 1858, to be drawn the ludy is for purposes best known to her-Wilmington, Delaware, on SATURDAY; self, holding her dress several inches from the ground, and as she does so, displays a foot and something more of a pair of slender shapeless, legs, that contrast most oddly and $1,200 unpicturesquely with the surrounding ex-

We must make one more extract from this 150 pamphlet, begging him who has had occasion to pass upon the street a bevy of fashionable women, or has been hemmed in by hoops at a lecture room, to enjoy the portraiture, for such a one can appreciate the drawing. The indigpant Englishman-who evidently some day, has been crowded into the gutter by sweeping Crinoline, says:

"If we walk along the public highway, we are frequently compelled to stand on each side, or to step into the road, to permit it to pass; if we enter a church, we find it mononolizing the greater part of the pew; if we turn $6,000 round the corner of the street, it rushes 4.000 against us, and nearly knocks us off our equi-2,500 librious; if we ascend a flight of stairs, it descends like an avalanche upon ue-so that we are compelled either to retreat into the landing, or fall backwards on the mat; if we Tickets $15-Halves $7 50-Quarters $3.75. vieit the theatre, it surges before, behind, and on either side of us, so that wecannot see or Old women trembling on the verge of the grave enshrine their decrepid bones within it; young children, not long released from the trammels of swaddling olothes, jerk their little forms about in it; ugly women, pretty women, dark women, fair women, are all under the distorical influence of Crinoline."-Cleveland Herald
